WELCOME TO THE FREEDOM CATALOGUE

Anarchism is almost certainly the most interesting political movement to have slipped under the radar of public discourse.

It is rarely pulled up in today's media as anything other than a curio or a threat. But over the course of 175 years since Pierre-Joseph Proudhon's declaration "I am an anarchist" this philosophy of direct action and free thought has repeatedly changed the world.

From Nestor Makhno's legendary war on both Whites and Reds in 1920s Ukraine, to the Spanish Civil War, to transformative ideals in the 1960s and street-fought antifascism in the 1980s, anarchism remains a vital part of any rounded understanding of humanity's journey from past to present, let alone the possibilities for its future.

For most of that time there has been Freedom Press. Founded in 1886, brilliant thinkers past and present have published through Freedom, allowing us to present today a kaleidoscope of classic works from across the modern age.

Featuring books from Peter Kropotkin, Marie Louise Berneri, William Blake, Errico Malatesta, Colin Ward and many more, this catalogue offers much of what you might need to understand a fascinating creed.

ABOUT US

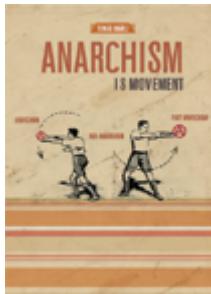

Freedom was founded by a group of friends including Charlotte Wilson (left) and Peter Kropotkin, who were already publishing Freedom newspaper. It has operated, with short breaks, ever since and has been at its home in Tower Hamlets for the last 50 years.

An independent, radical co-op controlled by its volunteers and part-time staff, Freedom runs Britain's oldest anarchist publishing house and its largest bookshop.

Alongside our own extensive back catalogue of classic works we stock thousands of books, newspapers and pamphlets on everything from history to sex, philosophy to workers' struggles, fiction to anti-fascism, as well as the latest magazines, periodicals and newsletters from all the major anarchist and radical groups.

FOR 2019

ANARCHISM IS MOVEMENT

BY TOMÁS IBÁÑEZ

FREEDOM PRESS, NOV 2019

ISBN: 978-1-904491-33-0

B&W

FURTHER DETAILS TBC

Tomás Ibáñez grew up in France as the child of anarchist refugees in the aftermath of the Spanish Civil War. Joining the CNT in exile, he was active through Paris 1968 and returned to Spain as Franco's grip loosened in 1973. After a lifetime of struggle, AIM distils his thought and predictions on anarchism in times to come.

THE TROUBLE WITH NATIONAL ACTION

BY MARK HAYES

This short work examines the neo-nazi organisation's emergence in Britain in 2013, its evolution until it was proscribed by the government in 2016 and the impact such reliance on State mechanisms is having on both far-right and left-wing politics.

OUR MASTERS ARE HELPLESS

ESSAYS BY GEORGE BARRETT, EDITED BY IAIN MCKAY

FREEDOM PRESS, MAY 2019

ISBN: 978-1-904491-31-3

B&W, 148 PP

RRP: £7.50

George Barrett was one of the anarchists' key organisers through the period of the Great Unrest, a syndicalist-led uprising which shook Britain shortly before the first world war began. Written mainly between 1910-1915, this selection of essays offers a unique political view from the time and remains incisive today.

INVISIBLE: DIARY OF A ROUGH SLEEPER

BY ANDREW FRASER

Many writers and books talk about the homeless. Andrew has direct experience. His writing on life as a rough sleeper, interwoven through this scorching diary piece, offers a clear-eyed truth from the gutters of Britain's housing crisis.

BY ALBERT MELTZER

ISBN: 978-1-904491-29-3

B&W, 108 PP

RRP: £7

At the beginning of the 1930s British anarchism was barely clinging on as great movements happened elsewhere. By the mid-1960s however all that had changed, with a newly invigorated movement. Meltzer tells the story of his part in those in-between years, as anarchists dealt with two world wars.

THE SLOW BURNING FUSE

BY JOHN QUAIL, FOREWORD & BIOGRAPHIES BY NICK HEATH

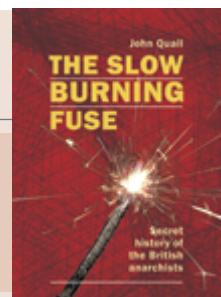

John Quail's history of the anarchist movement in Britain from the 1880s to the 1930s offers unique insights into a force that has fascinated, horrified and helped change the face of modern Britain. This new edition features updated foreword, biographies and full index.

BY ALEX COMFORT

FREEDOM PRESS, 1994

ISBN: 978-0-900384-71-9

B&W, 166 PP

RRP: £5

Alex Comfort, who was born in 1920, is best known nowadays as the author of the phenomenally successful Joy of Sex. But he was also a poet, novelist, critic, doctor, medical biologist, the pioneer of gerontology in Britain, a pacifist — and an anarchist.

THE STATE

ANARCHISM & THE STATE

BY PETER KROPOTKIN

In the three essays presented here, political philosopher Peter Kropotkin attempted to distil his insights into brief but brilliant essays on The State, Anarchism and the ideology for which he became a founding name — Anarchist-Communism.

THE STATE IS YOUR ENEMY

VARIOUS

FREEDOM PRESS, 1991

ISBN: 978-0-900384-57-3

B&W, 269 PP

RRP: £5

Looking at successive Labour and Conservative governments over a quarter of a century, at wars in Vietnam, Biafra, the Middle East and the Falklands, and at Paris 1968, this volume ends with a call to ordinary people to bypass the politicians.

VIOLENCE & ANARCHISM

VARIOUS

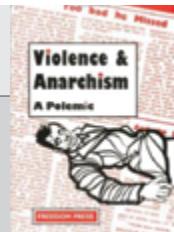

Most of the essays in Violence and Anarchism deal with the struggle against Apartheid in the 1960s. Kicked off by an editorial in Freedom Newspaper, the debate would rock pacifist circles of the time.

Corporate Watch is a not-for-profit co-operative providing critical information on the social and environmental impacts of corporations and capitalism. Since 1996 our research, journalism, analysis and training have supported people affected by corporations and those taking action for radical social change.

The group exists to investigate, explain and analyse how corporate power and capitalism work, and provide research for people striving for social change. Gaining an understanding of the role corporations play, the specific mechanisms of how they operate and how they can be successfully targeted is crucial for everyday struggles against exploitation, as part of confronting and challenging corporate power and capitalism more broadly. We hope to show that genuine alternatives can be built and that systemic change can happen.

Our motto is "information for action". That means providing accurate and insightful information to help people take action in their struggles.
